From the Editor……

Spring is soon to come and I'm ready for outdoor shooting! The biggest news in outdoor shooting for the ISAA is the new Iowa Trail Shoot. It is open to all archers (no membership required) and it is open for out of state archers as well. The committee for this 1st Annual Iowa Trail Shoot has been working quietly for the past six months preparing for it and working hard to make sure it will be enjoyable and run smoothly.

The Pro Am went well as usual and this huge event will be moving to Des Moines in 2012 to HyVee Hall. There is a lot of work to be done to prepare for it and the ISAA has a hard working crew who will be sure to complete the task, The Pro Am grew to another record number this year. Photos from this year's Pro Am are on pages 23 & 24, including photos of the seven-way tie for the top money shooter.

Be sure to read the back tension article by Jim Hunt that is on page 22. I recently switched to back tension myself, and my yellow Hoyt Kobalt has had the draw length shortened & lengthened so many times that I have lost count. It's been on Norm Swank's bow press numerous times in order to work on getting the peep to turn properly as well as to shorten the draw length by twisting the strings, etc. Our bow press is old and my Kobalt is too short to fit in it. So, my husband, being the tool man that he is, has been shopping for a newer bow press and I think he has found the one he wants o buy…. and I'm guessing I might be getting a new bow press for Mother's Day.

Don't forget to enter the Big Buck, Big Doe, Big Fish, Big Turkey Contest by sending the information to Erv Wagner at Archery Field & Sport or give him a call at (515) 265-6500 for more information.

Barb Sharp, ISAA Editor

FIELD SHOOT AT WALTONIAINS SILVER BROADHEAD:

A GREAT WARM UP FOR THE SUMMER FIELD SHOOTS!!!

P.S. Want to practice for the State Field, Midwest Field, and the NFAA Field Shoots this summer? Be sure to shoot the Waltonian Archers Silver Broadhead (named for the silver broadhead award given at this shoot) on Saturday, May 21 OR Sunday, May 22 at 9:00 a.m. sharp. If you have never shot a field shoot before, this will be the perfect way to learn. Let them know you are new to it and they will be sure you shoot through with someone who can show you the way.

Hello all.....The year has just been flying by.....with spring finally here (by the calendar anyway) we have had the state indoor tournament completed in Toddville..... Thank you very much to the Waltonian Archers for putting on a great tournament, seeing old friends and meeting current members. Congratulations to all who participated and set new state records!

It appears that in 2011 the ISAA will see a few new rulings in the Pro Am and the ISAA shoot off procedures. In the past the ISAA has not had shoot off rules in writing. On the other hand, the Pro Am has their shoot off rules in writing but there will be a few changes in those rules, too.

The new ISAA Iowa Trail Shoot is moving ahead and there has been a lot of talk about it and some speculations & concerns. The committee has and still is working to make this event a success. It is the first of its kind in Iowa and is stirring a lot of interest across the state and neighboring states. Fliers for this event have been handed out at the Pro Am, Deer Classic, Vegas, and the NFAA Nationals. Mark your calendar for this event on August 21st at Waverly Archery Range (you may want to start thinking about motel reservations).

Best of luck to all during the upcoming turkey season, get outdoors and enjoy it.

Sincerely,

Diana Deaton,
ISAA President

Bridger Deaton – Young Adult Archer

Bridger is 17 and has been shooting for just a few years now with the ISAA. He started off shooting with his dad and sister Cally. Mom, Diana Deaton, started off as "just a spectator"….

In 2010 – 2011, Bridger is on the Jr. USAT 3rd team position and has traveled all over the United States. Bridger's mom, ISAA President Diana Deaton spends most of her spare time driving him to competitions such as: Vegas, Lancaster, Iowa Pro Am, Presley's Outdoors, Gator Cup, U.S. Nationals, JOAD Nationals, ISAA Indoor-Field-Target, Yankton 1st Dakota Classic, and the NAA Indoor Nationals.

Bridger's dad, Kevin Deaton's job requires being out of town a lot, but when he is able, he enjoys being involved with Bridger's competitions, and also shooting archery when time allows.

Jordan Henry (11) with his new pre-owned youth Hoyt Button Buck bow. Jordan lives on a farm north of Indianola and is a natural when it comes to archery. Jordan became interested in archery after Ken & Barb held an archery demonstration at their church. The Sharp's helped set him up with the bow, arrows, rest, and bow case.. It is estimated that the Button Buck bow is approximately 30 to 40 years old and Jordan shoots it very well. The bow was purchased from Boyd Mathis' shop at Buck Hollow Sports near Pella, Iowa.

How to Shoot a Field Archery Tournament

By Karol Swank

Below you will find the different targets, the way they are scored and the markings each person will shoot from.

This is a FIELD TARGET. Each Archer will shoot 4 arrows at all 14 of the field targets. ADULTS (over 18) and YOUNG ADULTS (15 through 17) will shoot from the WHITE Markers. Youth (12 through 14) shoot the adult steaks up to 50 yards. Any adult yardage over 50 yards will have a BLUE Marker which indicates the YOUTH shooting position. CUB (under 12) will shoot from BLACK Markers.

Next we have a HUNTER TARGET. Again we have a known yardage and each archer will shoo 4 arrows at each of the 14 hunter targets. ADULTS (over 18) and YOUNG ADULTS (15 through 17) will shoot from the RED markers. YOUTH (12 through 14) shoot the adult markers up to 50 yards. Any yardage over 50yards will have a BLUE Marker which indicates the youth shooting position. CUBS (under 12) shoot (4) arrows from the BLACK Markers. A HUNTER TARGET looks like this

Finally, we have the ANIMAL ROUND. This too has 14 targets but the shooting is different. If 1st arrow does not score, you will shoot a second arrow. If that arrow does not score, you will shoot a third arrow, for a maximum of 3 tries. Then use the scoring chart above. Arrows must be numbered for this purpose.. (In the case of walk-up targets the first arrow must be shot from the farthest stake, the second arrow from the middle stake, and the third arrow from the nearest stake, in order to be scored.)

Distance Markers are as follows:
ADULTS (over 18) and YOUNG ADULTS (15 through 17) shoot from the YELLOW Markers.
YOUTH (12 through 14) shoot the adult stakes up to 50 yards. Any adult yardage over 50 yards will have a BLUE Marker which indicates the youth shooting position.
CUBS (under 12) shoot (1-3) arrows from the BLACK Markers

"Tom Jennings' Elephant Bow"

by Roger Anhalt of the Waverly Archery Club

This is a bow built by Tom Jennings who sold a top of the line bow years ago. He called this bow his "Elephant Bow". With him is Midge Dandridge, a very well known lady archer at the time. If I remember correctly, I got this picture at Mason City.

By Roger Anhalt

Website: Tom Jennings

" Tom has no snail mail nor E-mail address on his tropical atoll of Roatan, situated 35 miles off the east coast of Honduras. They have no utilities....no telephones, no TV, no electricity (except what they generate), and no road access to their resort. They do have satellite hook up (at times) for telephone. The airport is on the west end of the island. They are situated most of the way towards the east end. To get to their resort, one has to take a 15 kilometer drive from the airport, in a Landcruiser, to a dock at Oak Ridge...which consists of a bar and a few homes suspended over water....then a boat ride out of the harbor, into the open water (ocean) for another 10 kilometers, then back into another harbor where you finally arrive at their diving resort. The trip from the airport to the resort takes about 1 1/2 hours in reasonable weather, longer in other weather. None of the transportation on Roatan is public transportation, each resident provides it on their own "

"Lady Bowhunter Extraordinary"

Midge Dandridge was born in Bisbee, Arizona July 6, 1938, and moved to California as a young child. She first started hunting with a bow in Southern California in the hills around the Los Angeles area. She started out with a twenty-eight pound recurve bow, graduating to a thirty-five pound recurve, and eventually a forty-six pound compound bow.

Hugh Rich, her friend and employer, encouraged her to pursue the art of bowhunting feeling she would set an example for many women to follow this challenging sport. And set an example she did! Midge Dandridge has taken seventeen Big Game Animals in South Africa including: Impala, Blue Wildebeest, White Tail Wildebeest, Nayala, Sheep, Zebra, Blesbuck and a sixteen hundred pound Cape Eland, the largest species of antelope in the world. In 1974 Midge was the first woman to successfully hunt with a bow and arrow in Africa. Several of the eight different species of antelope taken are listed in the Roland Ward African Record Book.

In North America Midge has taken with the bow: Mule Deer, two Black Bear (both are California Record Book Bear), Wild Boar (which is listed in the California Record Book), Angora Goat (Record Class), Spanish Goat, Moreno Sheep, Corsican Ram, Canadian Honker, and two Mountain Lion (one of which is listed in the Pope and Young Record Book and also in the Arizona Record Book where it was taken).

The hunting experiences of Midge Dandridge have been featured in many magazines and newspapers throughout the world. For twenty-five years she has written many articles promoting bowhunting which have been published in all the major archery magazines. She has performed with the bow in many sport shows and has been a guest speaker for organizations and conventions promoting the sport of bowhunting.

FACEBOOK – January 2011

"Hi Barb--Nice getting acquainted with you. I guess you'd call me one of the old timers along with Tom. I used to work for Tom and did a lot of the shows promoting the Jennings bows way back when. I was the first woman to hunt on an African Safari with bow & arrow back in 1974. I collected different species of game with my Jennings bow & Easton arrows. Among the trophies were: Record book Impala & Blesbock, Nyala, Blue Wildebeast, White Tail Wildebeast, Zebra, and a 1600 lb. Cape Eland. It had always been a lifetime dream to go to Africa, but to be the first woman to take game with the bow was really special. If you need any other info, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thanks for your interest. Midge"

We bring this gentleman into the Iowa State Archery Association Hall of Fame. He is currently holding the position of Iowa State Archery Association Secretary and has been since it was vacated in July 2008. He is an invaluable asset to the ISAA. He is constantly trying to make sure everything is taken care of, such as new memberships, calling clubs to make sure they are aware of votes and meetings. He is always on the phone or checking emails with the board members, president, or members in general. He constantly is in contact with the NFAA with questions or concerns that are brought to his attention. He is always telling new archers and old alike about the four disciplines of archery.

This person has been shooting archery for six years now and is so strongly committed to this sport he has started the charter club named Lost Arrows Archery School. This club is totally committed to starting out new archers with no commitment for them to ever buy any equipment. When that starting archer decides he likes archery enough to buy his own equipment, the student knows exactly what he needs. He also offers archery instruction at higher levels for the more advanced archers that may have problems in their archery. Most important he wants to make sure every archer is totally safe whether it is in a tree stand or on the course.

His school instructs all forms of archery from the indoor portion, field course, target bales and the 3D courses. His school even teaches hunters how to properly use and check their equipment. He also holds the Basic Archery Instruction certification (level 1) for the National Archery in the School Program. Also holds National Field Archery Association Level 3 certification. He is currently working on being certified by the Boys Scouts of America to be a certified trainer for the Archery Merit Badge for both cub scouts and boy scouts. He is on the list from the NFAA for his Master Coaches certification in Yankton when they hold the class.

Since Spenser started the Lost Arrows Archery School it has grown to 54 students in less than two years, with new students joining every day. His club is unique in that is doesn't host shoots; it promotes the students travel to all the shoots instead. He has established a Shooter of the Year program that selects shoots dates from other clubs around the State of Iowa and the shooters travel there to compete. Which helps promote other clubs and organizations within the local communities.

Spenser teaches the National Archery in the Schools program at Earlham Community School. He is instructing the Boy Scouts of America troops in the Des Moines area two nights a week with the goal of everyone being able to earn their merit badges. Currently he is working with 18 boy scouts in one troop and 4 scouts from the Ankeny area.

Spenser is not in archery to win awards, although, he says it would be nice. He just enjoys watching the first shot of the new archers. He volunteers lots of time any time of the day for anyone that wants to learn or just go practice. He accepts no payments from any beginning archer just happy faces.

I am Proud to bring before you The newest Member Of The Iowa State Archery Association Hall Of Fame.

Form, Muscle Recruitment, and Other Silly Stuff

By Jim Hunt of Waukon

There has been thousands of articles written on back tension, along with a thousand more on correct form. These are written by talented people, but in watching archers shoot, I can see that the words are not being applied. We read the words, seem to understand them, but struggle to put them into play. Let me try to put these into a building stage, and keep in mind that it took you perhaps years to learn an incorrect way, so it will be a process to correct them.

Muscle recruitment is a must for correct back tension. I see archers come over the top with their draw and anchor. This is not only wrong; you cannot recruit the correct muscle group to enable you to correctly execute a correctly shot arrow. Coming over the top recruits the muscle across the top of your shoulder blade, your bicep, and triceps. When these are contracted, you tend to come out side with your elbow, and basically causing you to pluck the string (yes you can pluck a release). If you study the Korean archers who are some of the strongest archers in the world, you will notice they all draw and anchor from a low position. The first thing you will notice when trying this out, you have trouble drawing your bow. This will add merit to a development error in your shooting, and is a great indicator you're not drawing correctly. This often stems from too many pounds when starting out.

So why draw low? Well there are several reasons. First you are closer to your center of gravity, giving you more leverage. Second you will use a bigger muscle group, supported by other big muscles that are stronger. The most important reason is you automatically load the correct muscle group, and when executed correctly you will finish with your draw hand/thumb on top of your draw shoulder.
How you make this work. You need to draw between your nipple line, and your collar bone notch, and then rotate your elbow back to get in alignment with your nock on your arrow. The best way to work these changes out would be on a blank bale, drawing low, and anchor under your chin, making sure you finish on top of your shoulder with your thumb touching your shoulder. Paying close attention to contracting the muscles parallel to the spine, in the lower half of your shoulder blade.

Now for the form and a 100% repeatable shot: By preloading the rhomboid muscle properly you can expand your chest/contract your back and finish consistently coming back across your shoulder. What you need to look for is a draw arm level with your arrow. Draw hand held flat so you shorten the length of your forearm muscles, and lessen muscle tension. From behind the elbow needs to come into alignment with the nock. Setting up outside and expanding results in a pluck, setting up inside results in a torque issue, but both of the miss alignments result in you fighting your pin swinging left/right. Likewise a high forearm results in you fighting an up/down bouncing pin.

With some work, most archers agree that the low draw and anchor seem stronger, and the report seeing a slowing in their sight pin movement. Look at the success of the Korean archers.

ISAA Committee Announces Revised Bowhunter Jamboree to "Iowa Trail Shoot"

Committee Members: John Carlson, Ed Horn, Ron Teufel

Back in Sept.at the ISAA annual board meeting, Ron Teufel, Ed Horn and myself were appointed to improve our Bowhunter Jamboree. We have given this much thought, have had several phone conversations and had a lengthy in person meeting to come up with a fun event we can all be proud of.

GOALS: Our goals were to create an event where every archer is important, and every archer has a chance to win, not just the top few archers. We wanted something that would be considered fun regardless of the type of archery each person enjoyed. We also wanted to create an event that had the possibilities of becoming an outdoor version of our Iowa Pro Am, which is a large event looked forward to by large numbers of archers.

RESEARCH: Our research discovered we could duplicate success experienced by the Redding Trail Shoot in California and the very popular flight system at the Vegas Shoot.

THE DETAILS: We would name this event: The IOWA TRAIL SHOOT, no membership in any organization would be needed to participate. 40 target 3d round, marked yardage, two arrows per target scoring 11 for the orange dot, 10 for the vital, 8 for any hit whatsoever as long as the arrow sticks in the animal somewhere.

CLASSES: Adult, 18 and up, everyone flighted per scoring ability so like in Vegas, everyone competes against only those in their own scoring range, giving everyone an opportunity to win in their flight. cubs, youth, and young adult shooters will compete using the same ISAA guidelines used at our state events and receive ISAA awards (medals)

ENTRY FEE'S: Cub $5, Youth $7, Young Adult $15, entry fee split 50-50 with host club and ISAA
Adult entry fee $20, split as follows $9 host club (they furnish range and 3d targets) ISAA $5, $6 goes to the prize fund.

ADULT AWARDS: Championship Flight, 1st $500, 2nd $350, 3rd, $250
All other flights 1st $250, 2nd, $150 3rd, $100
This is all based on 100 participants, each additional groups of 25 will create another flight paying:
1st $75, 2nd $50, 3rd $25

SPONSOR: We are pleased to announce a sponsor has been obtained who will contribute $2000, thus assuring success in this venture.

DATE CHANGE: We had voted on a August 28 date, however we discovered this would be on top of the Rinehart 100 shoot and could not see that being in anyone's best interest, The Waverly club has been consulted and they are on board with August 21.

PROMOTION: We intend to promote this very heavily, we want to have flyers available starting with our Pro Am, so we are asking for your vote this week. President Deaton gave permission to present this to you by email.
